

Here's a couple of options to still make this retreat even if your school's Spring Break is on a different week.

We actually have some others where this is the deal so here's some options for you to consider.

1. You could have your youth miss school on that Friday. We have letters we've had teenagers turn into their school over the years in order to miss school for mission trips or retreats. (We could get you that letter. Legally, it's a "religious event".)
2. Your group could wait until your youth get out of school and then join us. Most even a few hours away could get there before the night session kicks off.

Let us know what you're thinking about doing.
For His glory,
Jason